Tradition and Innovation

We were born to make the best impression...

In 1952, a man had a great idea...

To create a leading printing company

In the 1960s, that idea gained strength when the second generation of the Espinosa family directed it towards the publishing industry. With outstanding performance and excellent service, by the early 1980s, they began to dream of a large-scale business with strong leadership. With the involvement of the third generation, coordinated growth across various lines of business became possible, positioning Grupo Espinosa as a key provider in the development of the publishing industry.

Today, with over 70 years of experience, the team of technical and administrative professionals at Grupo Espinosa demonstrates day by day that we are specialists in printing and finishing services for the Mexican and international publishing industry.
